Article 2      Entry into force

Article 3      Citation

This decree will be referred to as: Designation Decree for petroleum harbours in Rotterdam, Vlaardingen and Dordrecht.

Enacted on 24 December 2019.

The municipal executives of Rotterdam, Vlaardingen and Dordrecht.

On their behalf, the Harbour Master of Rotterdam,

R.J. de Vries

Note

The geographical demarcation of the petroleum harbours where a stricter regime applies than in the other parts of the port is made using 'shore site numbers'. This results in a precise demarcation.

The buoy spans 78, 79 and 81 and pole berth 80 in the Caland Canal have been designated as a petroleum area. This designation as a petroleum area applies only insofar as the tanker moored directly or indirectly to these buoy spans and pole berth has a dangerous substance, with the exception of a flammable liquid with a flash point of 55 degrees Centigrade or higher, as a cargo or residue of a cargo on board. In that case, the petroleum harbour will also include the strip of water 25 metres around the moored tanker. The benefit of this regulation is that the use of the buoy spans and pole berth also remains available for purposes other than the use by tankers. The status of the buoy spans and pole berth is determined by the type of the berthed vessel. If a tanker with a dangerous cargo berths, the berth becomes a petroleum harbour and the strict petroleum regime also applies here; if a vessel other than a tanker with a dangerous cargo berths, the berth does not become a petroleum harbour and the petroleum regime does not apply.
